After-Effects of the Grip

This Elkhart Woman's Experience Is of Value to Those Who Still Suffer.

The danger from grip is seldom over when the characteristic symptoms, the fever, the catarrah, the headache and the depression of spirits pass away. The grip leaves behind it weakened vial powers, thin blood, impaired digestion and over-sensitive nerves—a condition that makes the system an easy prey to presumonia, bronchitis, rheuprey to pneumonia, bronchitis, rheu-matism, nervous prostration and even consumption. Too much stress can-not be laid on the importance of stren-gthening the blood and nerves during not be laid on the importance of strengthening the blood and nerves during convalescence.

Mrs. Alfred Shook, living on R. F. D. No. 2, Elkhart, Ind., went through an experience which should be of value to many grip suffers. She says:

"A year ago this winter I had an attack of the grip and was sick from its after-offects all through the summer. After about a month I became so weak and run down that I was obliged to go to bed where I stayed for three months. I suffered from pains in my head, through the temples, and in the back of my neck. I also had awful backaches. I didn't have any appetite and there was always a pain in my stomach. It seemed as though I was hungry all of the time but couldn't cat anything. I was completely run down and lost a great deal in weight.

"I tried several medicines with no help and was under a doctor's care but he did not cure me. My neighbors told me about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I gave them a trial. It was not many days before I felt better and I took the pills until I was entirely cured. I have gained in weight and do not have a sick day now."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain the elements necessary to make new blood and, as the nerves get their nourishment from the blood, have been found invaluable in a wide range of diseases of the blood and nerves, such as rheumatism, neuralgia. St. Vitus' dance and even partial paralysis and locometor ataxia.

SECRETS OF THE GRAND JURY

Mr. Shackleford Asked Him How He Became Acquainted With Them -Rainey Will Reply.

Washington, Feb. 12.-That Representative Rainey of Illinois got from the New York World his information regarding the Panama canal affairs, which formed the subject of his recent speech, and that ex-convicts investigated the stories of fraud and corruption pertaining to the acquirement of title by the United States to the property, was the charge made in the house by Mr. Lovering of Massachu-

These gentlemen," he said. "are known. Their names are known; their aliases are known; their naunts are known; their plans are known." "Does the gentleman object to stat. ing who they are?" inquired Mr. Burleson of Texas.

Mr. Lovering protested that he was aboring under great difficulty because of the absence of Mr. Rainey from the chamber. He admitted that he did not notify the Illinois member that he was to speak on this subject. "I want to say," he said, "that these men have say, he said, "that these men have been run down and brought to book, and it turns out that many of them are ex-convicts, and they stand a good chance of returning to the penitentiary." He was pressed by Mr. Shackleford of Missouri for information as to the these convicts were but Mr. Love who these convicts were, but Mr. Lov-ering would go no further than to state that before long they would be pro-duced in court. "How do you happen to be familiar with the secrets of the grand juries?" Mr. Shackleford asked, but before he could answer, Mr. Gaines of Tennessee inquired if he was not a warm personal friend of William Nelson Cromwell. Mr. Lovering admitted that he was. Responding to questions by Mr. Shackleford, the Massachusetts member said he personally was not a client per said he personally was not a ellent of Mr. Cromwell, but that he was a member of a corporation that had re-tained his services. PROSTITUTING A PRIVILEGE.

"This gentleman has been made a victim or he is too willing to asperse such fair names as those of Charles P. Taft, Douglas Robinson, William Nelson Cromwell, Roger Farnham and several others." It was, he said, a shameless prostitution of the privilege of free speech which members enjoyed on the floor of the house.

For this utterance Mr. Lovering was promptly called to order by Mr. Law-rence of Massachusetts, his colleague, who was in the chair.

Mr. Lovering protested that he had mentioned no names except that of Mr. Rainey and those which had been spoken of in the house and in the public press.

Upon the suggestion of Mr. Gaines (Tenn.) that Mr. Rainey had been sent for and that the speech should proceed no further until he had arrived, Mr. Lovering yielded the floor temporarily. After waiting a reasonable time and Mr. Rainey not having returned to the chamber. Mr. Lovering resumed his remarks. He had not proceeded far when he was told that the Illinois member who was scheduled to make a Lincoln speech in Bultimore, had been overtaken at the railroad station and was on his way to the house. Mr. Lovering again suspended his remarks.

RAINEY WILL REPLY.

RAINEY WILL REPLY. In a short time Mr. Rainey entered the chamber and stated that his Baltithe chamber and stated that his Baltimore engagement would prevent his remaining throughout Mr. Lovering's remarks, but that he later would make answer should he find it necessary.

Continuing, Mr. Lovering declared that the evidence was complete and sufficient "to convict the blackmailers who have tried to work their game not only on the gentleman whom I have named, but on both political parties."

Last fall, he said, an effort was made to sell the steries to the Democratic campaign committee, and that certain leaders of that party took the matter under consideration, but that they were not used because they could not be substantiated. He charged that for nearly two years prior to that time "these same men had been pursaing Cromwell with the expectation that he would pay them a large sum of money, we wanted from $1.000. would pay them a large sum of money, varying from $5,000 to $25,000.
